GOVERNOR, U.S. HOUSE AND PROPOSITION 1

Governor Brad Little leads Terri Pickens 49% to 30%. Russ Fulcher leads the 1st District 52% to 26%, and Mike Simpson leads the 2nd 46% to 31%. Achilles runs 13 points ahead of Pickens statewide and well ahead of both Democratic House nominees, a measure of the reach of his independent candidacy. Proposition 1 trails, 39% to 54%.

Governor

| Candidate | Share |
|---|---|
| Brad Little (R) | 49% |
| Terri Pickens (D) | 30% |

BALLOT INITIATIVE AND SAMPLE PROFILE

Proposition 1 (reproductive rights)

| Position | Share |
|---|---|
| Support | 39% |
| Oppose | 54% |
| Not sure | 8% |

2024 presidential vote (recalled), all respondents

| Candidate | Share |
|---|---|
| Donald Trump | 60% |
| Kamala Harris | 27% |
| Someone else | 2% |
| Did not vote | 10% |

If respondents who did not vote in 2024 are removed and their share is re-attributed proportionally, recalled vote equals Trump 67%, Harris 30% and someone else 3%, in line with Idaho's certified 2024 result.

METHODOLOGY

VoteNexus Research surveyed 700 likely Idaho general election voters from October 21 to 22, 2026. Respondents were drawn at random from the registered voter file and invited by text message to complete a confidential online questionnaire through a unique link that accepted one completed interview. Results are weighted equally to two benchmarks: the registered voter file (party registration, region, congressional district, gender and age) and Idaho's 2024 presidential election results. Both sets of targets are matched at the same time, and neither takes priority over the other. The margin of error is ±4.5 percentage points at the 95% confidence level, accounting for the effect of weighting, and is larger for subgroups and for U.S. House results, which are based on respondents in each district. Candidate order was randomized, and candidate ballot results include respondents who lean toward a candidate. Percentages may not total 100% because of rounding. This survey was commissioned by Knock Every Door PAC and Todd Achilles for Idaho.
